Virility

Lack of virility is not only a problem in its own right. It is a sign of imbalances in your body that can lead to more serious problems if not properly addressed.

Virility

Explanation

Modern medicine blames lack of male virility on testosterone deficiency and poor genital circulation. It believes these things are the natural companions of advancing age.

Logically, however, if lack of male virility was a natural phenomenon of aging, all men, in all cultures, throughout all of history would experience a sexual shutdown at or around the same age. The fact that so many men enjoy robust sexuality even in old age shows that sexual dysfunction is triggered not by natural design, but by modern lifestyle.

According to Traditional Chinese Medicine, lack of virility stems from weakness in the Kidney System, and from deficiencies of the energies called Kidney "Yang" and Kidney "Essence." Excess coldness and dampness in the reproductive tract and weak or stagnant blood may also be involved.

When any part of any system is weakened, its other parts are weakened, as well. Since the Kidney System includes the kidneys themselves, the brain, the bones, the adrenal glands, and the urinary and reproductive tracts, and controls hearing, healing, urination, excretion, blood marrow and sexual fluids, any weakness within it can impact all these things. Weak blood restricts the delivery of biochemicals to cells, and the removal of wastes from them.

Health challenges that arise from Kidney weakness include bone loss (over three million American men suffer from osteoporosis), incontinence, prostate issues, fatigue, low blood count, memory loss, senility and other types of brain dysfunction, and so on. Those stemming from weak blood are too numerous to mention.

The only way to build virility while also guarding against these other health challenges is to resolve the imbalances that lay beneath it. Advanced Holistics 4 Way Virility Support System is the only virility supplement that does so.

4 Way Virility Support provides L-Arginine and L-Histidine to enhance the flow of blood to the genital region, and Tribulus, Maca and Eurycoma to encourage the production of testosterone. It also provides an exquisite botanical blend that rebuilds Kidney "Essence" and Kidney "Yang," dispels cold and dampness, and strengthens and moves the Blood.

Because it does all these things, it enhances virility more quickly and completely than any other virility supplement. As it does, it also protects against the health challenges associated with lack of virility. And, it does it all without the dangers of the stimulants that so many virility products contain.

The chart that follows identifies the things we must address to fully support healthy sexual function and interest, and the systems that control them. Beneath each heading is a list of the factors that serve that function.

Note: Because 4 Way Virility Support System reflects the collective wisdom of many holistic traditions, you may be unfamiliar with some of its ingredients. But, these ingredients have been shown, through 4000 years of use, to be ideal for the purposes they serve.

PERFECT BALANCE = PERFECT HEALTH

Why Holistic is Vital.

ABUNDANT HEALTH IS POSSIBLE ONLY WHEN THE BODY IS IN PERFECT BALANCE. SYMPTOMS OCCUR TO TELL US WHEN IT IS NOT. THE WORLD'S GREAT HOLISTIC TRADITIONS EXPLAIN THAT ADDRESSING SYMPTOMS WHILE IGNORING THEIR CAUSES IS A SURE ROAD TO RUIN.

In Traditional Chinese Medicine, the body is divided into five organ systems, with the blood being the "River of Life" that connects them. All health challenges are caused by imbalances (called excesses or deficiencies) in these systems. Excesses occur when too much heat, cold, dampness, cells grow inefficient, biological processes become sluggish. This triggers discomforts, with the type of discomfort depending on which types of cells are affected.

For over 4000 years, Traditional Chinese Medicine has correlated every type of discomfort with the imbalances that cause them. It has also told us how to resolve these imbalances.

dryness, phlegm, toxins or stagnation build up.

Deficiencies stem from a lack of the vital energies known as Qi (Vitality), Jing (Essence) or Shen (Mind).

Deficiencies and excesses prevent cells from working as they should. As Naturally, when we experience discomfort, our first thought is relief. But, to truly protect our health, we must pay as much attention to the things that cause the discomfort as we do to the discomfort itself. If we have deficiencies, we must nourish the vital energies. If we have excesses, we must cleanse them from the systems they affect. Finally we must restore normal function to the cells those excesses or deficiencies have affected.

Advanced Holistics 4 Way Support Systems provide the world's finest nutraceuticals, to relieve discomforts as quickly and completely as possible. They also provide the world's most treasured Superior Tonic Herbs to nourish vital energies, and clearing herbs to cleanse excesses from the systems they've weakened. Together, all these things restore normal function to cells that have been damaged.

Relieve. Nourish. Cleanse. Restore. The four steps required for the complete resolution of any health challenge.
